DISAPPEARS

Ortho Olvey Last Seen In This City Last Saturday.

Ortho Olvey, a young man living a few miles south of town, came to town last Saturday and after placing his horse in a livery stable, went to K. Twyman's grocery and bought some goods. He left the packages at the store, also his overcoat, saying he would call for them later. This was the last seen of him. His wife, uneasy about his absence, came to town that night and took the bundles and his coat home, but up to this time nothing has been heard from him.

So far as known he had only a few dollars, as he cashed a check for $5.00, leaving a considerable sum to his credit in bank.

DEMOCRATS

First on Official Ballot--Fac-Simile Certificate to County Clerk Stowe.

County Clerk Stowe has received from Ben L. Bruner, Secretary of State, a fac-simile of the state ballot with printed directions of what names to put on the ballot.

Besides the regular state ticket, the directions are to place the names of candidates for railroad commissioner in all three districts and the names of circuit judge candidates in some other districts.

The Democratic column, headed by the rooster as a device, comes first by reason of that ticket being successful at the last regular election. The other tickets and devices appear in the following order:

Republican party—Device, log cabin.
Prohibitionists—Device, Phoenix.

INTERURBAN DISCUSSED

At A Meeting of Business Men Held Tuesday Night.

SEVERAL INTERESTING TALKS

Plans Outlined For Building Electric Line To Guthrie And Other Towns.

About 35 leading citizens and business men met at the office of the Forbes Mfg. Co. Tuesday night at the invitation of the promoters of the Hopkinsville-Guthrie interurban line. The proposition was explained by Mr. A. H. Eckles, who pointed out the great benefits that would accrue from the road and outlined the proposed plan of organization.

A local committee of ten has financed the movement so far and succeeded in interesting Mr. Walker and others who were here recently to look over the situation. The plan now is to raise $3,000 or $4,000 to make an actual survey and employ solicitors to raise a subscription of $100,000 to create an equity to be paid only when the cars are running and perhaps not then, as the road may be bonded far enough to build it. When this step has been taken the bond buyers would make their own investigation and fix a value of the bonds based on the earning capacity of the proposed road. If good business men are in charge the bonds will have a higher value. It is proposed to have good business men in charge of this road and to build it on the best scale, all grades reduced and equipments first class. It is expected that the bonds will sell at a discount and soon advance to full value, benefiting the subscribers who will get bonds for what they have advanced or pay in. Rights of way have been secured for five years at nominal expense. The proposed route is via the Western Asylum, Salubria, Pembroke, Trenton to Guthrie, 27 miles serving 23,000 people, an average of $74 to the mile.

It is expected to promote creameries, poultry yards, truck gardens and small farms along the route, increasing the population as the big farms are cut up. Other roads are sure to follow in time, bringing in cheap coal and fostering manufacturing. M. C. Forbes said the proposition was to benefit the whole community and asked that it be discussed freely. Geo. E. Gary said the promoters were men who evidently meant business. The Board of Control of the Asylums was deeply interested and Chairman Scott has intimated that the Board will make a subscription to the preliminary fund.

In answer to a question, Mr. Eckles said it was intended to incorporate for $800,000 and issue stock to those who have already paid $2,000, all subscribers being treated alike. The additional subscriptions asked are to carry on the work, pay expenses of getting franchises, etc. It is up to Hopkinsville to make the project a success.

Nat Gaither said the meeting was to raise money needed. It would not be wasted, but would be used to perfect the organization.

Jno. C. Duffy, W. A. Wilgus, Frank Rives and others took part in the discussion. At the conclusion subscriptions were opened and a good start made towards raising the preliminary expense fund.
